```
standard input standard
output ls >filelist
ilelist
                                                                                                cat file1 file2
file3
                                                                                                all-
files
                                                                                                >
sort file-
file-
file-
file-
sort
file-
f filelist
dates
                                                                                     ls
temp
wc \frac{\mathrm{temp}}{\mathrm{who}} \frac{\text{w}}{\text{grep}} \frac{\text{it}216}{\text{who}} \frac{\text{grep}}{\text{grep}}
\frac{\text{it}216}{\text{wc}} \overline{\mathbf{wc}} find
find
find
find
-name
-x.[cC]
cut who

cut
-c-c-12
cut
-d."
-f /etc/passwd
tr set1 /set2
stdin
who

tr
, [A-Z]
tar
1;
(1;
...
)
\begin{picture}(20,0) \put(0,0){\line(0,0){15}} \put(0,0 1 END printn, "rowsread"'
```